This suit is not supported by 75-80% of computer users.

The entire suit is being pushed by Microsoft's competitors and the State AGs where these competitors reside.

The Judge should accept the settlement and drop the remaining State's suit.

This would be a boon to our present economy. Any lengthening of the trial will only drag the Tech economy still lower.

Let AOL, Novell, Sun, et al, fight the war with their products and not in the Courts.
